“Concussion and Subsequent Risk of Injury: Are some athletes returned prematurely?”

Jaclyn Caccese, PhD | Assistant Professor | Health & Rehabilitation Sciences
Levi Weitzel, 2020 CBI SURF Awardee | Undergraduate Student | College of Arts and Sciences

In this talk, Dr. Caccese & Mr. Weitzel will explain how athletes are at increased risk of subsequent injury following return to play from concussion, raising concern of whether some athletes are allowed to return to play prematurely. They will (1) review previous research linking concussion to subsequent injury risk, (2) discuss current efforts to determine factors associated with subsequent injury, and (3) propose future work to further understanding of and to prevent subsequent injury.
