Playing By Heart: The Shakespeare and Autism Project

Kevin McClatchy, MFA, Associate Professor of Theatre-Acting & Directing, Director Shakespeare and Autism Project

Kevin McClatchy joined the Department of Theatre in 2013, where he currently oversees the acting curriculum. He has also been a working actor for more than 20 years in theatre, film and television. He is the director of the Shakespeare and Autism Project at Ohio State and, with Janet Parrott, was principal investigator on the Responsibility, Morality and the Costs of War symposium, supported by a grant from the Mershon Center. Kevin’s research interests include acting technique, civic engagement through theatre, Irish theatre and the use of Laban Movement Analysis in film and television acting.

January 28, 2019 | 2:30pm | 352 18th Ave Library | Refreshments