Lifelong Consequences of Traumatic Brain Injury

Zachary Weil, PhD, Assistant Professor College of Medicine, Department of Neuroscience

The Weil lab investigates the long-term consequences of pediatric traumatic brain injuries. In this talk, Zach will focus on the interacting roles of inflammation and neurometabolic dysfunction after traumatic brain injury in mediating vulnerability to subsequent neurological insults and alcohol abuse.